DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 85-90, 93-107, 116-119 and 121-124 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schneck et al. (US Patent No. 5,933,498) in view of Rhoads et al. (US Patent No. 6,442,285).

Regarding claim 85, Rhoads discloses a method, comprising in a server of a network, storing a plurality of images representing pages of a book said images stored with a resolution effective to enable said book to be read; responsive to a request over the network sending one of said images to a remote node (see col. 23, lines 8-64); however, Rhoads fails to explicitly teach determining if the request for pages exceeds a certain threshold, and sending said information only if said threshold is not exceeded.

Schneck teaches determining if the request for pages exceeds a certain threshold, and sending said information only if said threshold is not exceeded (see abstract and col. 2, lines

Art Unit: 2173

46-67). It would have been obvious to one of an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide determining if the request for pages exceeds a certain threshold, and sending said information only if said threshold is not exceeded as taught by Schneck to the watermark detector of Rhoads in order to enhance a user friendly and enable users to access into on-line books publishing sample and exemplary.

Regarding claim 86, Rhoads discloses wherein said images are classified according to whether they count towards said threshold, and incrementing a counter when an image that counts towards said threshold is requested (see col. 7, lines 1-43).

Regarding claim 87, Rhoads discloses wherein said determining comprises storing information indicative of an amount of reading into a computer file (see col. 8, lines 4-49).

As claims 88-90 are analyzed as previously discussed with respect to claims 83-87 above.

Claim 93 differs from claim 85 in that "receiving, at a client of a network, information about which of a specified plurality of images to be displayed, each of specified plurality of images showing textual information and at least a plurality of said images showing non-textual information, said textual information representative of contents of an entertainment media; displaying said images responsive to said requests; and wherein one of said images includes liner notes." which read on Rhoads (see col. 13-14, lines 1-67).

Art Unit: 2173

Claims 94-95 differs from claim 85 in that “ discloses method as at a client of a network, information about which of a specified plurality of images to be displayed, each of specified plurality of images showing textual information and at least a plurality of said images showing non-textual information, said textual information representative of contents of an entertainment media displaying said images responsive to said requests, and wherein said specified images include a front, a back cover, a spine, and liner notes,” which read on Rhoads (see col.24-25, lines 1-67).

As claims 96-107, 116-119-and-121-124 are analyzed as previously discussed with respect to claims 85-93 and 94-95 above.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. (see PTO-892).

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
